TRAVEL COMPANY

Travel with lecturer Douglas Skeggs and Joanna Worsley, to the historic city of Budapest, separated by the River Danube, which is really two cities in one. On the northern shore is the ancient city of Buda, which is dominated by the Castle high on its rocky crag, beneath its foundations are a 1,000 years of history waiting to be discovered. Cross the Chain Bridge and you are in Pest, and here are wide boulevards and imposing 19th century buildings, historic churches and varied museums. This tour explores these fascinating cities of Buda and Pest, showing how this combination makes this unified city one of the most interesting in Central Europe.

Outside the city, there will be a visit to the Lázár Equestrian Park which was established in 1991 by the Lázár brothers, incredibly successful horse racers. You will also have a private tour of the Károlyi Palace at Fot, the former estate of one of Hungary's oldest noble families, accompanied by Countess Károlyi.
