Join Hamish Van Gruisen to discover this extraordinary country with its intoxicating mix of bustling markets, ancient temples and cutting-edge innovation along with an incredible cuisine.

We begin in Seoul, the buzzing capital city and one of the best places to visit in South Korea for its lively atmosphere alone. The capital is home to some of the country's most iconic historical sights and traditions, including Gyeongbokgung Palace, Changdeokgung Palace, the Guard Changing Ceremony at Gwanghwamun Gate and the heavily guarded border between South and North Korea, the Korean Demilitarized Zone (DMZ). We visit the city's cultural gem of Insadong to discover a plethora of art galleries, antique shops, craft stores and classic teahouses and enjoy authentic Korean street food at Gwangjang Market, one of the country's oldest and largest markets.

We travel by high speed train to Andong, often considered the spiritual and cultural heart of South Korea. The city is known for its preservation of traditional Korean culture and customs and its architecture from the Joseon-era (1392-1910) including the huge, wooden Bongjeongsa Temple and the picturesque UNESCO World Heritage-listed Hahoe Village.

We continue to Gyeongju City which was once the capital of the 8th century Silla Kingdom, is often referred to as the 'museum without walls' due to its rich history, cultural heritage and natural beauty. Here highlights include the royal treasures of the Daereungwon Tomb Complex and the Buddhist carvings and monumental Buddha statue of Seokguram Grotto and Bulguksa Temple.

No holiday to South Korea would be complete without witnessing the natural beauty of Busan, South Korea's second largest city and our final stop, full of stunning beaches, vibrant seafood markets and scenic harbour views.

There is also an optional post-tour extension to Jeju Island, where we will see the mesmerising volcanic terrain, pristine white-sand beaches and countless picturesque landscapes that are unlike anywhere else on earth.

Your Tour Leader Hamish Van Gruisen

Originally from Gloucestershire, Hamish trained as an accountant before joining The Ultimate Travel Company in 2019. Childhood safaris in East Africa and treks in the Nepal Himalaya ignited a lifelong passion for travel that still guides his adventures.

Since joining Ultimate, he has explored Indonesia, Oman, Botswana, Tanzania, Zambia and Namibia, and has led company trips to Antarctica, Japan, Southern India, Nepal and Namibia. In 2023 he completed Ultra X Jordan, a five-day ultramarathon across Wadi Rum, an experience that left a lasting impression, especially the extraordinary landscapes around Petra.

A few moments stand out: spotting his first iceberg while crossing the Drake Passage en route to the Antarctic Circle; tracking desert-adapted lions along Namibia's Hoanib River; and discovering the cultural elegance of Japan, from the speed of the bullet train to the quiet intimacy of a private geisha tea ceremony.

Travel has been a constant thread in his life, from seeing his first giraffe in Kenya at nine to recent family time in Cape Town and the Winelands, which he recommends as an excellent destination for those travelling with young children.
